i wanna scribble on a william blake painting i think he wouldn't mind so would i

i'd be honored to have something of his on mine i know it would offend you though cause you're not in it you're on the outside looking in how would you know no blank paper left in william blake's when i'm the one that scribbled on his last one as he also had used my last one new is better than old until it's old again

blank paper's writing is also on top of william blake's but like i said

wanna have a kid one day but so mucj shit lurking so much shit lurking so much shit lurking so much shit lurking in the air breathing is not what it used to be microplastics in angels swing their feet off my collar i have something to say which is i've nothing to say for some reason i feel the urge to state that i don't wanna state anything ah i got it everything stops when i get to writing angels swing their feet off my collar bone observing and analyzing asking how how when there is literally nothing he wants to say he says and the shit he says how the fuck aren't they shit but like they're the shit

this task i was tasked with this is not a task when i get to sit on his collar bone and watch i guess i i feel

and i gain consciousness find out who what is and what god is not i find out stupidity makes the task a task everything always moves that's how he gets to say when there is nothing he wants to say who the fuck is he always vibrating

his core always pushing and pulling taking and giving
always fucking vibrating and i feel it makes me vibrate too makes me wanna
shove the pen i was given to the navel im not lord's humble servant reporting to it the lord ain't even a lord those that don't make me wanna take that fucking pen and stick it into the navels of those that's making me write about stupid shit like there was an earthquake today motherfucker everything moves earth quakes all the time oh my i gain new just because now that you can feel doesn't mean it wasn't there that's how i know my tasker can never be god making me write about the times they felt and not about the signs they disregarded oh yeah right right there is that other bum sitting on the other side of the collar bone i was born today i excuse the ignorance i should ask for without asking for it earthquake told me i was excused weirdly enough earthquake in the world im sitting on does he feel the earthquakes in the world he is sitting on does his earth quakes and their's intertwined im not talking to anyone from now on god is not there but here yeah i don't care i should walk across the bone and ask the other guy which one of us cover which earthquake who is located below this cliff to study its effects find out when it gets hard to live by aye aye aye i have something to say nothing all i have is 1 thing a question

who owns me

low vibrational question im trying to shake my earth qqqqqqquake man no i don't have a question i don't exist like it's all already been covered at an early age i boxed god

we love each other

i recognize him

he recognizes me like i love fucking roaring and playing

when im not with him

i let others use my body my being my vices

my vices are in a moshpit getting ready for the fight up there down there the punches i can land on god against the punches that get me punched im in recovery till im ill at it im in recovery cause i am ill at the same time im ill cause god and i spar and boom earthquake took all the angels not monitoring properly and they're descending to my core where they'll see many manner of things and when you get to see him next you won't get to ask them first time?

which sucks cause mfers know now u know this whole deal seems so weird what was the whole deal with this ordeal unclenched hands looking for another meal?

and i ran with a heart ripped in my rib cage caged in my rip cage rip to my heart in my rib cage

i i ran from a graveyard became gravely ill

the tolling bells so still the ease i deemed to feel was the pain ever real?

mental institutions

my fascination towards mental institutions grow it's just a place where everybody is kind and no one is judging each other i was sitting and waiting in one once and it suddenly struck me everything is weird that nothing is weird at all a dude tied up to his bed screaming messiah was coming and no one found it odd and i started laughing

i laughed so much

ah it was so funny man to laugh

and the best place is to laugh is a mental institution i had to walk in the room that was keeping the tied up jesus dude and he asked me release me i said

bro are you not seeing the beauty of this whole thing you can do anything you want lay back and chill

he said tamam and i don't remember him tripping that much afterwards also when the nurses left i thought about stealing some drugs from the drawers that's where they were keeping it and what they gon do if they catch me give me tranquilizers???????

i don't shoot down

i don't shoot down anybody's ideas i never not engage never not give my %100

im sorry my %100 really sucks when i have it im looking for places to give it and im sorry for always trying to give it all when it requires less and im sorry that makes me really weird it's just

i don't really like it when it's all with me these hands are conspiring against me to tear down what i don't like then i have to face that im weird and im sorry for being weird these hands then build me back up and now i have %200 to give cause it really is going to hurt when i see these hands but either way im weird and even more

sorry

can you tell me some nice things please

2025-02-21

hi

today i'll write something unlike i ever have i won't be me as if i have been i'll never be able to write unlike i have i don't exist

words do not all ideas are the same

all words are everything that's been written is the same the need to state

i will never be heard god only listens

he doesn't hear and you know im not sure he does listen and im not sure why im mentioning god im the least religious well im a member of my own at it an outsider may feel i lack but that's how my religion is fucking purely is my religion cleansing

i don't feel pure if i don't fuck cause then i can't fuck purely i need to fuck 36 hours a day in the office the studio at the table of the cashier in the mosque echoing chambers of the church confessional booth where we release

i need everyone to see how pure i fuck i swear to god
all the blinds open sex ed as seeing me fuck
sex ed as you getting inspired to fuck yourself then find out you're fucking god then fuck other gods to put both yourself and them to test are you the god you think you are are they the god they think they are how worthy you are how close are you to fuck everything which will lead you to hottest

the sun

the sight of pure fuck is unlike anything look at sun

look at me well you can't see you ain't fucked pure enough and the other god is greater than the other god all the concrete blocking the sun poisoned my tongue to address a different one as father and shit perhaps a little natural considering how fatherless everybody is including me well i got the realer god sun

always hot always high fuck father

i haven't felt dumb in a while i haven't felt dumb in a while and that makes me feel really really dumb i can't count on yall to make me feel dumb cause you all are dumb pardon my french dumb

and all that makes me dumber and i got myself to make me feel dumb so i don't become dumb first you get numb to dumb and then eliphany i made a word cause im dumb and don't know the word for what im trying to say but also smart enough to make up a word for it but im still dumb cause you don't know the meaning of it and most importantly im really really really really really fucking dumb for failing to invent a language and have yall speak it

smart enough to go back in time to ask myself how did whoever did it have everyone speak it dumb enough to not figure it out nah i probably would if i spent a little time which would again make me smart then another question i'd figure the answer to then another

and thennnnnnn i'd be dumb back again so hi

im dumb

2025-02-21

severe pain

im in severe pain things i need are so far away hundreds of years away and im in severe pain my eyes are weary of what they've seen ears hearing car engines water is the most important thing it's everything we come from water for fucks sake and we have people drowning tells you a lot about the world i need a rhythmic systematic water machine that will hit certain spots of the body that got paralyzed perhaps due to feeling a lot or due to not feeling at all soften the skin and clean the pathway for the energy to flow that will provide the water in circles that make infinite circles circles differing in size as it hovers above my body is this proving you that im that that im stuck limited and boxed

that im so far away

if not you clearly haven't had such feeling never been this high before not felt this good not fought enough to be rewarded by it the lower you get the higher you go then the low gets lowest im tired

if not you should watch me make love or let me fuck you to show you what you've been missing threading a doll so endearing there is literally nothing to say

what you need is figuring out adults at the table playing come

what are you bringing in a figurine mending another figurine voice of your mother welcoming you in time for you to get settled in all you've been good at is loving wish to become is what you been how good are you at nothing?

to separate the prey

from the predator lurking on everything so lovely predator doesn't lurk on the lamb it lurks on its pretiness the magical way it lives in its own world seeing the grass greener whereas predator doesn't see grass just the lamb

the little lamb

my mom

my beautiful sad mom in a world filled with the greenest grass topped with the prettiest flowers in a world i thought i'd live for eternity till i found out she made a bargain letting the fox in the hen house after seeing a lamb of its own roaring displeased that pink topped grass is only exclusive in her own world she must have wanted to check how outside was too scared to let me out too respectful of my curiosity to let someone in i wonder how hard must it have been to give up what she had created

and her flowers

as her flowers rotted her grass got browner her limbs got weaker her lamb got angrier roaring

louder than any lion

sorry i am mother for not knowing what it's like outside

for thinking of the greener grass believing i could find it outside if not make it in my own

just like you did

for bringing destruction to your creation to build mine

for i can't appreciate your grass as well as you do

for i see myself as a lion but being your lamb

i sorry i am mother for feeling so good in your world and trying to dictate if i am elsewhere to find out if truly i can

to one that's out to kill the flowers

for wanting to be both a predator capable of killing what's out to kill

that gives life and a white little prey that's out to watch the little ants

build a home in a home i build amidst the greenest grass

for not knowing the sisters and the brothers of the killers of the flowers that i'd kill would come back to kill your flowers as they can't kill me and they can't kill you but if your flowers die i die

im sorry for killing you mom

i just wanted more flowers

i just

i just wanted them for my kids im sorry mom im sorry

2025-02-22

broken in my failure im tired of thinking tired of observing tired of figuring out as i figure out

i figure out what i had already figured out as it turns out

i haven't quite yet figured out myself till i figure out then when i do everything is anew

the journey is anew

gosh why is there so much to figure out why as i figure out i realize i haven't figured out i lost my mind

yet i feel saner than a priest who has an answer to everything best answer is no answer for it's you alone to seek that can't be found till you run out of reasons to run drop everything and settle everyone talks too much they think they know too much and i listen to everything that's why i never seeked everything i needed found me built something out that says that's not what i need when someone says it i prefer silences i prefer the most odd most socially unacceptable i prefer to observe and enter if i'm allowed into the sanctuary where we sit away from this crowded restaurant filled with uninteresting people filler of rooms silencer of ideas silent murderers listening to the e minor echoing in that sanctuary and i see them the ones that do not ask 3 worded questions requiring 300 worded responses yet the chimpanzee i'm in a discourse with have the attention span of a jellyfish please it's an insult to chimpanzees and jellyfishes to compare the feelings those my heart is empty to find a phrase to describe the situation with those can't call them braindead even though they are yet is it their fault they haven't used it clearly they didn't need to i pity them i feel sorry for them when i'm away from them but when there is someone at the table like me and we feel each other's existence when there is a chance for us to dive under the big table and swim in each other's deep waters perhaps exchanging some stones but the 'them' at the table are putting boxes all over the ground to look taller i'm disgusted it truly makes me sick i've been always like this i remember the simpler times when it was easier to stay away from people now i'm out in the world lost in the world in fact looking for the one that doesn't speak my excitement grows when i run into them then they speak i let out a oh then i feel even more sorry not a pretty boat that i'm in huh weep for me as i can't weep for myself maybe i sound just like them good thing this is out on the paper if we were all to be naked most of these problems would disappear people bury themselves under things and i just can't help but digging stuff like a dog like a excited, play loving dog and i'm asked to be put on a leash like the rest of them i hold my own leash and you all are bunch of bitches you can't say anything to me i haven't told myself i can't be shot down by others i hold my leash

so i decide

i can destroy you with one sentence but i'm sure it would go over your head as you'd notice some rotating tires or a kid with an ice-cream by the time i'm half way through my sentence and go running and don't get me wrong everyone loves a happy dog till it storms at your kid's ice-cream i hate you more than i hate myself below a grade stands the group who hates you for stealing that kid's ice-cream i hate you for teaching that kid what stealing someone else's ice-cream means and i hate them for hating you

instead of feeling sorry for that kid what i hate the most about all of you is for robbing me the pleasure of being a sun chasing digging dog and turning me into a god, a responsible figure, a parental figure whose duty is to correct the misbehaviors conducted by you so my kid can eat his ice-cream in peace with his head in the sky staring at the giant ball that's so far away called the moon but there are so many of you i don't even know if i can live long enough to fix you all let alone have some ice-cream with my beloved child i hate you all for filling my heart with hatred preventing me from dreaming about the day i wander off with my child i hate you all for hating being child i hate you all from being miles away from the place you were forced to leave it behind and i hate you all for not taking my hand and help you go look for it as i'm just a 21 year old bum and not a reflection of your long lost self if you looked more than 10 seconds and spit all your hatred i could make you see that i stay and let you do what you need to maybe you think you would break me seeing you broken breaks me more and there is no remedy for it you can never break me but seeing your body trespassed watching it being the den of 300 lost souls

is that why my hands are nailed my arms are spread is it me observing that makes you hate me not firing up stars but watching them do i make you realize you are in the cycle do you hate me for not being in it is your hatred for me a reflection of your hatred for the gods i was simply an observer i guess that's what god is yet i never wanted to be the one to be one yet you made me one sit with me let it all go watch until it's the shooting stars and not shooting stars they can't crucify me if you're with me yet i can't be sure what's to come if we're all gods for better we'll be together i'll hold your hand you hold the hand of the one by your side i'll comfort you you'll comfort him

let the gods kill me but not you your child my child calls him friend bloodbath gods won't kill us if we don't kill ourselves as we'll applaud as the shooting stars stop traversing we'll applaud and ask where were they going would be cool to hear him say bringing you to me answer seeking stops at a certain point you learn you can no longer learn why existence is definable but why existence is not all i learn teach me how little i know and i believe i believe in the pretty things makes my existence pretty i don't know why i exist nor do i care to be honest i like existing

believing what is truth?

a feeling in your core?

i feel in my core i made it rain and i believe i made it rain if what i believe turns out to be the truth am i not the existence?

they fear pain
i fear getting lost in pain getting swallowed by darkness not being able to feel suffer die yet keep breathing the moment i stop feeling i no longer will know all the good yes, i know a lot of pain yes, i suffer a lot i suffer because i know the good feeling and i haven't forgotten it i forgot a lot of things i forget a lot of things but this this is something i'll never forget i suffer because if i don't you will

at times when i don't suffer i still suffer as i meet someone who doesn't black holes a whole vast of nothingness swallowing all the light echoing all the darkness

i fall very slowly with no gravity i bear your pain your sins falling into the nothingness in your black hole

yet i remember how i ended up there in the first place heading to a distant light and looking down at your pit feeling uneasy and i jumped and i fell
i keep falling
until i feel all your pain free up space so i can fill it with the previous light i've touched before i fell into you

i've been away

hey

from myself

from my paper from my pen

from my sacred den

i've been betraying myself putting all my faith in the paper lock i put on the door of my den i was told i have to leave i had left not because i was told by those unaware how beautiful my den is and how messy their den is i left because my den is really really beautiful and it's no use for me if it's not use to others and i've been so far gone my den sits atop a hill so far from everything so far from everyone and i'm walking back from it putting all my faith in the paper lock i made from a 17th century geometry book containing someone's notes yet no sketches not some messy lines not one scribble

just math notes on some pages they are full now telling the story of my journey to my sacred den built atop the seed of the forbidden apple that got me banished from the garden of eve the long walk the many reactions from both my demons and my angels from god himself, my father many faces i saw on my face many fractures i had many herbs i collected many stars made their own den above mine many mes i came in contact with many senses i made sense with many mysteries i solved them with i'm on my way back i came with my head on the ground i'm going back with it straight looking the parts of me i may have lost

forgotten

but this time i'm searching myself up there the feathers i shed descending from the heavens this time i'm not looking at my impact i'm looking at my fall in a perfect world i wouldn't have a lock at all not because i'm afraid someone would break in simply because it won't be as tempting to see what's in it without a lock just like my father

just like how he sealed my fate when he forbid me the apple causing me to taste it in a perfect world i would come back to my den and find the remnants of a healed world golden hair on the red cushions the dying orange embers in the fireplace now alive in the body of someone with golden hair feeding that golden hair in a perfect world the 17th century geometry book of mine would tell the story of the arrival of my golden haired self and they would be so inextinguishable that i couldn't tell which is mine in a perfect world there would be hundreds of reminders everywhere i looked everywhere i looked every path i traversed

that i'm a nobody cause i'm everything

2025-02-22

i hate that i

always use i i contemplate on the best way of thinking best way to start

whether it's with us things

life

us sounds too preachy

i never taken seriously of those that says us instead of me what it does is it spooks off the invited bad hospitality one's supposed to make one see one has to look inward to see one has to feel liberated to be to think one has to see what one has to offer to use it on themselves therefore i will always use i

as i experience life through my own eyes there has been a storm in my mind i wanted to write had a lot to say but now i see everything is how it's supposed to be it's life

and i
i always wanted to die i always hugged many times i've been hugged but for all the times i have not i wanted to die to hug the pretty death that awaits me and i can become eternity in a child's eyes that will hug his child

and everyone i hugged shall embrace me in the holy arms of death where we all lay together separated from
plastic lifeless fake entities
those unworthy those unwelcomed those that hasn't lived
those that are merely effects of the passing seasons and the tolling of the bells reminders of death reminder of how little you've been hugged
you've lived

you've played
you've jumped at the arms of death and not hugged it or it didn't hug you cause you hadn't hugged enough for the last and eternal embrace the bells
the doomed bells you're not hugged you haven't hugged
know the warmth of other arms and meet them in my arms where we will be where i will be me where you will be you where i could proudly say i knew you knew of your courageous acts knew of you taking on a competition which one of us will hug more when i asked you what's the point you told me i'm inexperienced in hugging my life had been pretty empty until this day where i decided that

will embrace the only embracer that can fill up my void death and i need lots of practice and a deep understanding as i never been hugged before i need to hug a lot if i
wanna be fully embraced by death in the moment before the moment a fight is decided before it starts you're not defeated until you're beaten who can fuck you up more than you?

who knows all your dirtiest secrets but you?

your greatest shame

what's your greatest shame?

is it appearing stupid or making someone feel stupid does it stem from a place of humbleness or pride how confident are you in your inconfidence what you got when you got nothing ain't that the toughest predicament

2025-02-22

is your fingers numb

did you ever go back did you ever return did you ever return from what you had returned to how many times you left yourself betrayed yourself

pushed the hands holding your hands grasp at its strongest at your wrists before you broke it all off do you think you broke the chains which chains do you think you broke does your wrists carry a burning sensation

2025-02-22

a shrinking star there is something inside of me buried so deep

so deep and im a digging dog you've no idea how long i've digged you've no idea how little i've digged you've no idea how much i've digged the baggage others have thrown at me you've no idea how much i've been dragged by it my head can't even carry my shoulders how can my shoulders carry the baggage of a thousand dead stars how can my heart beat how can it not get squeezed how can it not get caged in my rib cage

i know what my heart needs i forget what i know and what i believe

i question

the weary shoulders carrying this weary head this weary shoulders carrying this baggage can't carry out what my heart needs and i get smaller when the core can no longer support itself against all the pull it collapses supernova such explosion is quite spectacular and dramatic it's often told it could outshine an entire galaxy for a short period of time sounds like me that does sound like me perhaps all my baggage is just gravity and my weary heart a dying core born eating the universe exploding to give back to it perhaps i i should stop fighting i should stop attempting i should stop being sisyphus

i should let the gravity glue me to the ground as its core pulls my core and watch the dead stars as they call my name and close my eyes

shrink

meeting parts of me i never had not even meeting saying hi to the parts that know

we'll all die

right after we meet

wtf is me i never have the problem of not being able to write something does that take away from anything i say cause i can say it?

with no issue with my chest out

do i ever contradict myself not likely when all i write about is contradictions and the thing that links them woven in fire conceived in moisturized environments whatever the fuck that means my thoughts aren't mine cause like wtf is me you know imagine being so little that you're a labeled jar your attempts at preserving keep you from liberation god is the devil

have i unknowingly made a pact with the devil or was i never the son of god washed in his grace clothed in the purest of oranges was my blood never his tell him

tell him i'm sorry

i am sorry for diluting his precious blood by eating an apple

seeing how little he is

tasting the heavens even he couldn't help me see in a tiny droplet of that mighty apple

i am sorry for transforming i am sorry for the change i had brought to the world i am sorry for wanting to give back i am sorry for forgetting how pity and spiteful

you can get

i am sorry for you

being weak

i am sorry for your suffering i am sorry for you making us just so you can find comfort in your pain knowing we all suffer i am sorry for worshipping you when you are the denounced when we are you and i i am sorry i am sorry you never felt your blood glamour by the sight of the apple i am sorry you had to feel too little i am sorry i left you in your suffering if you were loving as that apple my father
your sons wouldn't suffer the same fate as you but you

couldn't help it how i feel (in turkish) nasilim...

gunlerdir nasil bir cevap verecegimi dusunuyorum, oldugu gibi. dusuncenin arkasindaki o yer, o sessiz sessizlik ve tanri'nin pazar gunu dinlenmesi.

cozulmus kablolu kulaklik gibiyim. ne muzik dinleyecegimi dusunuyorum kendi sesim karnimdan yukariya dogru cikarken huzurluyum, sevgiliyim, huzunluyum. hem oldugum gibiyim, hem oldugum gibi. size karsi ozlem icerisindeyim. dizlerinin ustunde omuzlarima dokunarak bana kerem, ne kadar iyisin diyen tiyatro ogretmenime, en guzel maske benim yuzum diyerek olan, oldugum gibi olan kendime, her seye karsi ozlem icerisindeyim.

bir gun batimindaki deniz sevgisiyle yumusak ve agirliksiz adimlarla koyu kahverengi tahta zemine dusen indigo gokyuzunun isigiyla oradan oraya dans ederken buldum cevabimi, daha da sevdikce daha da iyi olacagim.

knots and puzzles

a 128 piece puzzle can be quite fun you have all the big pieces and the big gaps everything attaches very smoothly my coffee is rather bitter this morning but i have the sun hitting my hardened face from the winter i made extra coffee for my sister whose alarm is keep ringing and i find myself contemplating on whether i should wake her up with a cup or let her be as her alarm lightens her sleep to the point where she's ready to get up it's been 2 summers i spent orangeless this morning

this winter morning fully clothed in black as my mug and my coffee it was orange largest puzzle is called what a wonderful world at 60.000 pieces and i have 300.000 loves i'm very hard i'm soft

But sand had other, devious ways of driving us mad, like defying all reason. The sand would accelerate inside the tube and then sporadically stop accelerating, come to a near halt, and then continue on its merry way. How the hell does one model sand mathematically? Is it a fluid? Kinda but no. Is it a solid? Definitely not. Sand defies all reason and logic.

I attempted to apply fluid dynamics to the sand so I could model this mysterious behaviour that retarded the flow. I hypothesised that sand in a tube was some kind of fluid that could only flow in a laminar fashion. But it's ever shifting and seemingly maliciously random behaviour made the calculation of an accurate Reynolds number equivalent nearly impossible.

my mom taught me to be a doer not think not contemplate just do while it's still fresh in your sights don't let it simmer and anchor itself down there well then i got traumatized and became a beer she said to say hi and bid farewell i neither said hi nor farewell

WELL SORRY MOM LIFE HAS A WAY OF KNOCKING THE WIND OUT OF YOU

thank you for understanding for your love in absence as i wasn't attached i am a doer of a home for myself now ma!

thank you for the lessons!

dazzle folquenesch

why so rapey

they can never break me i will never forget thee lets call seasons spree kissed the storm and called it funny you spoke about it as if i was a mummy oh folquenesch

you thief of names

ache in velvet skin, forgets what it takes!

mirror held in tremble's grip fire was water before it asking questions questions questions questions questions folquenesch game you play aparted me scripples tiface dribble me back into place cant you see preasley face truth gets lost when edge is soft you're moving but you can't go conflicted race race all you make me do do you even watch me run or do you run me vam me lam me and mran me make money?

slarn me and darn me 69 me never wine and dine me oh folquenesch so rapey come thru and 69 me the weight of faces shifting on the skin pull me deeper but i wont let you in burn crash trash hold the edge 100 faces don't make me choose folquenesch where you drown but never die where silence sings the loudest lie folquenesch folquenesch folquenesch stash these mirrors they're too complex not the first time world's been wrong just the first time i felt wrong punch me teach me the look of the blind teach me the twist when your past unwinds i dance around the circles, walls don't care no one's listening, but the mirror's there everything's a rulelessly ruled game

my flame burns, I can't remember my name folquenesch what's the whole deal with this ordeal this whole shit seems so weird
yet in this fire, I am the spark, swallowed by shadows, I leave my mark no longer searching for what's mine to claim I am the echo of the untamed flame folquenesch — you were the question, you were the answer, and now you are the silence after.

i am

too much

i am just too much

there is so much

such abundance how am i to sleep

forgive me o thee!

dear sleep

miss me while i'm away and call upon my name only when the sound of your voice will cradle me in blue and purple space

cold blue ethereal night sky cradle me o sleep!

along with everyone i join!

all my fellow fellows!

allow me to follow

to wake and sleep seamlessly not name my fellows across the hoard o sleep days are so rejoiceful days are so rejoiceful what will you bring?

take home a nick no folquenesch are you folio?

is folq an ancient people?

is fol a soldier like state where you unite for unities sake?

you come up before you disappear and you leave no taste nor will i find the means to find the means

2025-05-08

what is it about sleeping pill on a sleepless night pilling into the sleep and still not sleeping sleeping and not sleeping

not two opposite acts but one it is all just one one in twos one in twos and my fragmented mind pulls its pieces through either channel without me being attached to none

i cant tap in i gotta be

2025-05-08

i really have no idea whatsoever

i really have no idea

i have no idea

i have nothing

i do not have an idea

i have ideals

sometimes i do have ideas but they tire me i dont know what having ideals does to me should i read back everything ive written possibly not would i have an idea then would it be good for me to have an idea or should i remain idealess in a not very ideal world

i deal the cards do i more often than not they are not ideal and now im sleepy

2025-05-08

i dont owe my thoughts a paycheck you dont owe your thoughts a paycheck door gets slammed and you cant always fact check i feel, not deal

i fear not ideal

2025-05-08

how i found myself bound how i found myself bind by rules whilst living rulelessy living blindly depressed mildly

i cant write anymore i am a real person i puking all the misplaced all my missed days

my mind is broken or maybe its becoming a whole im starting to like poetry my mind thinks of rhymes instead of bursting out stuff maybe i do not know

may be i,

am i what i used to be whats the next sentence supposed to be what shall be made of me peacefully

2025-05-09

i really love my friends i really love my few friends they're like it's like some nights you extra wanna put your pyjamas on when everything just feels right you unwind i love my friends i love everyone but i love my friends a little more i love my mom too my dad too but i love my friends ah how beautifully they try how gracefully they survive it makes me so happy i get to call friend to some people cause it's such a privilege to have such mindless yet so mindful space in one's life how i love my friends tonight i will sleep very happy iF I sToP wRITEing just kidding

cause i love my friends

have you ever

i felt lonely in a crowded room and crowded in a lonely space i did right when i was wronged and i did wrong when i was right i took a left to go right and took a right to go left where did i go who did i see did what i touch stick its memory kissed my feet granted wish reel new breath who's there
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
sit long enough
have you ever seen a yellow cloud white sun have you ever seen through the hues missed all the clues blew all the fumes chewed less than you're supposed to then feel sorry and chew extra more to make up for the unchewed piece now you're about to piss have you ever walked the ether have you ever thanked a trash bin have you ever kissed the sun smiled at the moon not laugh while the moon witnessed smiled at it played with it
have you ever lived
have you ever lived

have you ever lived
have you ever lived
have you ever lived

last rain before bloom

last train before doom the sky whispers of what's coming, purification of what's been brewing beneath the soil, everything is ready this last rain before bloom my heart is not steady tis the last rain before bloom the petals wait in soaked silence i sigh through soaring lens roots rehearse their resurrection my chest heaves with unborn breath untamed name my chest carved along the lines i couldn't see how this the last rain before bloom

this the last rain before doom

2025-05-21

today

i woke up extra angry today my laptop looks extra dirty phone feels the same garden laid last winter remnants and sounds of construction sounds of decimation balance skipping extra everything feels like colonialism today today it feels extra colonialistic how can it be different in one cycle of the season what's happening with the scales same place i was sunbathing naked now so dead

2025-05-23

am i supposed to am i supposed to think before and write after 2025-05-26

i'm not a writer

but that doesn't give me excuses to write mediocre shit but at the same time i don't write mediocre shit staring at a blank page but there is a pulse strip your crowded thoughts and do your chores i masked my flaws

i masked my morals

2025-05-31

feels like i've been here before is mom more important or the dad i think mom

but why do i think that possibly due to daddy issues but i digress are dads equally important meh too much to think about

2025-05-31

mom's like mom and dad's like mom's like mom and dad's like a stranger you're meant to really be close with this is really revealing ain't it mom's like the ethereal force innocence of a lamb too much unconfined my dear big black hole that's dad and that's that fuck it i'm not finished dad's are important man we're in a dadlessness pandemic and lemme tell you dad's are important he is the closest stranger if you can't do with him how will you do it with the world that's why dad's gotta be like moms not lamb but a wolf ponders about its reflection and sees a lamb not ethereal but catches etherealism through serving ethereal serving dad's gotta serve men gotta serve but nonetheless

i do not like men very much poem for another day!

what's greater than love in high school i'd sleep in classes a lot and i'd love my deskmate — who was also my closest friend i'd move my foot to the right to see if he was still beside me he'd know i'd do that, so he'd pull his feet away nothing for me to feel — to feel him beside me i would immediately get up and look for him we would catch eyes and we would laugh i could lie on someone else's shoulders pretty comfortably back then now i cannot does growing up mean less love i guess if it's you that's growing up, love can't grow with you i remain — and will remain — young, little, and peculiar and i will love more i may not be able to put my head on someone else's shoulders as much as i did back then but i can touch someone's shoulders now and if you ask me — it's more sensual maybe because i've grown up

2025-06-04

this year was

this year
long, cathartic, and biblical.

the tomato saplings never grew.
all that time — never bloomed.

i got angry at the dry-looking earth that never seemed to drink enough water.

so i flooded it,
muddied it,
and planted a lettuce in it.

today, it's growing.

and the tomatoes — the saplings — removed from the pot and placed in real earth, not the expensive, "ideal" one meant for growing tomatoes — real earth.

and they seem to be doing well too.

everything is exactly the same.

i went to see

i went to see what all the fuss was about i vent to see what all the fuss is about i went to see and i've seen how cruel, how unseen there's no tea like mother's tea route is unseen and unscenic authenticity breeded the schizophrenic and i paid the price anthropogenic, eugenic cardiogenic aesthetic it only is when you're not looking a pathetic esoteric

i keep being followed if you're reading this that means i keep being followed when i wrote this i was being followed so if you're reading this that means i'm still followed though hated, but still followed i stopped walking they stopped walking too i stopped talking they stopped talking too i stop they stop i move they move is this all you can muster what they say to me as if it would make a difference to me i say they say nothing keeps them at bay you you evolved into you you're evolving into water inside tell me i should be more closer to water sun in me tells me i need more sun now was before

now is now

i made a vow disregard everything that comes out of my mouth or spills out of my fingers sweat out of my skin poetry is not it anymore poetry is not written it's lived and i live pretty poetically me and the universe know waters that open to let me in skies that erupt

what am i even saying written poetry is for those with things to say with no way to say it and i guess i have a way to say them now chosen one

i want emotion

i want life

i want to change everything i want to be the chosen one i want to succeed

i want to be loved

i want to love

i want to become a nuclear weapon of love i want to live forever

i will live forever

i will never die and everybody will love me every second of my neverending life we stopped producing icons man played god and now we can't have icons fuck this this is it go do your own thinking one more stanza

2025-06-27

i wrote that i hate that i use i i wouldn't start a sentence with i if my writing emerged from a place of knowing.

i would just state, what needs to be stated i learn and i learn how little i know i am alive

therefore i will always use i is this right what i'm doing reflecting, thinking, questioning i'm such a good question asker its answer often is everything not one thing

i'm such a good question asker answerer finds the answer with ease it happens so naturally glimmer of god and i forget what it means what what i do means i question more

answers come so naturally and i feel nothing

i wish i could feel nothing all the time there is no other feeling i'd want than pure nothingness in it i emerged in it i live in it i shall in it i be in it it is

2025-06-27

someday i'll get it

i want to write but i can't i guess that way i can't write mediocre but ignore that remark and let's focus on how i was able to all the time

a well that runs deep will it all make sense one day all my scribbles

all my texts will they turn into things find life of their own live life of their own will i be able to sit in front of them and recognize what i can't now will it all make sense it will all make sense then i will write better dear reader!

from a place of knowing to keep the fire lit i'm young therefore i'm starting more fires than i keep lit meh

i do not know

till then love

moon demands my eyes sotto voce i'm still talking about the moon i love the moon

i feel very connected to it i am very captivated by it i can feel moon

when it's not there i loom i just love the moon

i change as it does

i love as it loves

2025-07-03

moon makes me cry

we always talk, moon and i never in prayer, always face to face well i guess one could call searching something in its absence prayer i would i see its many faces

all prettier than others

i see its many phases

i can see what obscures the entirety of it when i look at it i can see earth back i've no idea what i'm talking about well i'm talking about the moon!

i'm just talking about the moon

2025-07-04

good and bad of today water

i woke up to birds chirping skinny dipped saw a dead raven annoyed at my neighbours' newly constructed pools' fountain that makes this unholy water splashing sound i'd rather listen to the silence instead can i report them somewhere they're animals

they're way too loud kids that are being badly raised screaming mom mom mom mom mom imma fuck your mom

dad is a deadbeat

loud as fuck

they constantly have people coming over one of my window is looking right at them see this poem was supposed to be a mental exercise to focus on the good and disregard the bad but now i'm angry as fuck

ANGRY AS FUCK

and i sunbathed right after i woke up them motherfuckers were still asleep now they're awake and they make me wanna kill them all my safe havens are being pillaged by a bunch of savages and i really don't know what to do tell me what to do @kdoterem

2025-07-04

and piss on their corpse i will break their fountain when no one is there the fake splash that drowns birdsong the artificial river that forgets silence i will unscrew their water god drain their worship into earth and i will listen to

again

2025-07-06

a veil unveiled

i'm not far from myself as i had used to be yet i'm not as close to myself as i have i find myself ceasing becoming a veil unveiled i dare see the spots on my face no longer lost in a maze
i dare
i dare
i dare
i dare to stay not be what i feel i dare not to be but to stay what i have always was 2025-07-08

i will be more selective when it thoughts

i will be more selective when it comes to feeling feelings cause not every feeling is good and i know at one point or another you have to feel them all but can't you get to a point where you can choose what to feel after feeling them all a bunch of times?

doesn't that make sense?

if my crappy ass neighbours make a lot of noise, instead of getting mad at them for ruining my peace can't i search for the melody in their resonance?

would that really help? sound from a broken symphony can it stand on its own?

am i onto something?

2025-07-08

can poetry ever be a sung song words from a sunken ship these hands lost in a time before all the times before i was made to be what i was meant to be,

before what was all that was,

till it all dusk till dawn, drowned in sand and sank in sea god drank from me i plead when i found he was pleased with me i planned to flee and draft into fantasy since then the silence sang through me kiss and spill your vanity let's run back from this tragedy

2025-07-08

i existed before existence knew what to do with me god needs the soul as much as the soul needs god a chalice emptied to what was full then caged in what they call a soul shaped into a mortal pull masked in myth and made a fool knowing wonder had no vault memory as his only fault haunted by the beautiful

2025-07-09

nothing is inside of me i don't feel the urge just the need to purge need to take pauses live a thousand life in a bleak break these bones never break this soul never ruptures i'm familiar with its infrastructure i'm familiar with its tongue living this life of mine i may as well been a monk i may as well been a ronin get all the peasants moanin

2025-07-09

heed, see, savor

i keep digging when i done digged i keep fixing when i done fixed i keep licking the sword that stabs me on my shoulder where it taps me dives deep to my lung spring never sprung king never crowned tapped the tab on my tongue you won't be forever young you won't be forever funny honey where is all your money where is all your honor know that you are a goner know that you are alone love has no limitless loan love has no limitless money you're gonna be broke weather ain't always sunny you're gonna be broke whether you save or not heed what the savior taught see what the savior said savor it all 'fore it all fade thought spiral

what to do when you don't need to do anything do you still think you need to do? when you don't need to do anything
if you do do you need to do anything? perhaps there are a couple things you need to be doing what will you do now that you need to do? what will you do?
will you do what you need to do or will you do nothing when you need to be doing will you do nothing?

i will not start with a question i will start with a deep breath exhale very slowly then take a new one this time feeling more intensely what enters what lingers

what lingers is what has been and what has been is well i do not know it has been many manner of things some unspeakable though i'm a writer, it's my job to put a light on all that's casted but you wouldn't believe what i tasted i won't test my tasker but dip gracefully to the waters i dipped but i will do it for the first time even if i've done it a hundred times i don't know what to say weight of it no longer weighs weight of it no longer hurts i remain submerged

i remain submerged not forgotten rotten became food i'm a spotter i don't know how to conclude this feud brewed for many moons

2025-07-31

ive been living a newfound life

in a newfound self ive been too far from documenting been too alive to narrate been too alive to analyze been too

ive been that too

2025-07-31

nothing new

it's nothing new, i still have nothing to say except the thing that keeps me awake keeps me at bay where i can return to all that needs of returning all that needs of tending all that needs of mending all the rules have been bent in this game i came out to play

to this day i forgot the day to this day i forgot the way am i finally awake or was i never sleep in this dream that i gleam i see pieces of a broken dream in it they became whole my belly is finally full

2025-07-31

i feel i overflowing

i feel i overflowing in things i cannot contain well this is how overflowing works, when a thing can no longer contain i guess my thing is thingies

i wonder how thats all i do to see, to learn i dont wonder how one is one with one
i wonder how i just wonder how

I WONT SETTLE IN

i don't have the time nor the energy to settle in into the feeling and allow what rises to rise up

2025-08-09

i was painting

i painted a picture so vivid bled my blood so livid ever since i've been so timid i flick it, it doesn't burn its stone leaves no place to turn i yearn, don't know my place i can no longer see my face

2025-08-09

i knew

i knew wed break up today today i styled my hair the usual way the way you like it then re-done it with a product i havent used in a while today i didnt brew your coffee with cold water the usual way today i brewed your coffee unlovingly today i felt today i forgot to take my meds and my meds got us separated bohemian whereabouts and sick of atv sounds what's worse than a car sound? an atv sound what's worse than a hissing tap water sound? a pool fountain's one what's worse than bad neighbours? wishing they were dead?

nah, that's not worse at all and i choose not to speak on my neighbours though i already spoke about them and now feel the obligation to at least conclude or let you know what goes on but do i really need to writing 500 pages of elaboration on one stuff can i not just ask you it's more powerful way more powerful fuck all the great writers well actually no cause they weren't as smart as me they did not write to explain you shit they wrote to find the questions that needed asking no title everything sucks how feasible is it to write the first thing that pops up does it make the blank paper soon to be full less holy cause you didn't get deep enough you just bursted out what i do is no different after the first thought this is the first question though first thought and first question is not the same they are still the first in something so i'm going to take a pause right here. mindless mind residing in a broken place turned whole beast's belly is full he is too tired to hunt sigil of god mark these words turn back to cowardice turts cover these nerds so this is what it's like to write with an empty mind i'm going back to not writing.

i am not happy with the way things unfold we need to talk about finn page was thin in this life of sin constant fucking took a toll on Finn now Finn wasn't Finnish and neither he finished building a fuck fest in ether reaching up to Eden it was either that or marrying a girl from sweden if he has he'd contemplate what he'd done what can be done about him before god takes a notice and knocks him toothless leaving him beaten

this brings forth satan but finn has eaten so he wasn't worried the semen of the sea man in the passing of the seasons was his reason what was his lesson?

Steven was on the crucifix for his treason but Finn was a free man.

you walk as if you've been here before you walk as if the soil needs your touch you walk as if the ground remembers that it was you who taught gravity its heaviness you walk as if roots rise to meet your feet you walk as if time decided to rest its head against your shoulder you walk as if walking was invented the stillness in kerems veins through all something remains,

the stillness in kerems veins,

all that hes seen made him want less, and what he wants is what he needs, and what he wants he shall seize read

Hi, I took salvia and now I'm an ankle monitor. Long story short a friend gave me some salvia and now I'm an ankle monitor. That's literally it. And it's not. I'm worn by a guy named Kerem. An ankle monitor must feel like hell I feel like a literal cuff wearer is cuffed but he is not really bothered by it. I see him meditate and whatnot and it's almost like I'm his limb. What's more is that my battery hasn't dropped to critical levels. Well it did in one instance but he was asleep after a long ritual of releasing his protective self and put it up to shelf as it had been keeping him from himself. And I haven't been with him for very long as long as I can tell, it's been 2 months, I've been strapped to his ankle for two months. Anyways my battery got low when he was asleep and I spoke. I have limited vocabulary for speech. Low battery, battery full, and charging. There may be some more but he hasn't put me in stress by leaving his designated area yet. I'm hoping he won't, as my masters will haul his ass to jail if he does. I've come to care about him, most people go as long as they can go with what's strapped on them. Wherever the self that's on them emerges from. And it's alarming I think, no pun intended. Discovering my masters was a grizzly discovery too. He was awake, my voice wasn't high enough to wake him, I tried to scream but couldn't. Then his phone got a notification, he didn't hear that, then his phone rang. When he answered it was some guy telling him he needed to charge the monitor. I was baffled first. Now that I look back after some time, it feels good to have someone watch out for me, I think. Though I'm curious what's there when my battery runs out, or if I'll spend my existence being strapped from one Kerem to another. My chip can pick up the signals from his core, information running in his veins, I'm tapped to them, often tap dance to them. Being with him I feel wonder-ful, full of wonder, I wander, it's wonderful. Is that a word? I feel a sense of nothingness. I can't tell if he is the reason I feel the way I feel or if that's what I'm capable of but time will tell my demise I guess. What else to tell about him, let's see. He is a happy guy, he jokes with his mom all the time, his phone doesn't get much notification so it's slightly sad to see but when he does he seems to sit with it to see it through and feel the ray of emotions it makes him feel and I sense that his response is an exchange to a great person's letter. It's not Instagram per se, it's something profound going on. Whether on Instagram or not. Though he prefers iMessage, I can tell it from the chime. That's all for now. I'll see what else goes on and keep you all posted.

Edit: Wow, I wasn't expecting such response, will answer some of the questions.

@spiritseeker22: Wait, so you're literally an inanimate object that gained consciousness through salvia? How does that even work? And you say you can sense the "information running in his veins" – what does that feel like? Is it like data or more like emotions?

No, dumbass. I'm a human turned ankle monitor THROUGH salvia. Try for yourself, but think twice. To the latter of your question, it FEELS like emotions but my chip picks it up, and I'm not a sentient creature (ankle bracelet), so here is my question to you. Is the two really at odds? What creates data? What drives it, dictates it, forms it, manifests it, whatever. It feels like I am a number of things all at once, it makes me forget I'm a ankle monitor at times.

@techbro_writes: The battery life thing is fascinating. You said you tried to scream when it was low but couldn't, does that mean your consciousness fluctuates with battery level? Like are you MORE aware when fully charged?

Uhhh, I don't think so but I was scared when I hit that low.

@empathreads: This is oddly beautiful? The part about caring for him and hoping he doesn't leave the designated area because your "masters will haul his ass to jail" – that's such a tender concern from a monitoring device. Do you feel protective of him? What was it like witnessing that ritual where he released his protective self?

It was okay. I feel words diminish what exists, happens, goes on, whatever!

@existential_dread_47: "Whether I'll spend my existence being strapped from one Kerem to another" – god that's bleak. Have you thought about what happens when your monitoring period ends? Do you just... cease? Or do you think you'd stay conscious if they put you on someone else?

Hoping to sober up, if not,... fuck.

@daily_reader_istanbul: You mentioned he doesn't get many notifications and it's "slightly sad to see" – why does that make you sad? Do you want more stimulation or do you actually care about his social connections?

Honestly, what are my options? Not care and be BLEAK? But you put it a little harshly, everything in life is self-serving as we, hold on battery low. You asked that question to satisfy your curiosity, do you want more stimulation or do you actually care about his social connections?

Edit: Some more comments.

@philosophy_dropout: "I feel words diminish what exists, happens, goes on, whatever!" – this right here. The ankle monitor is more articulate about the limits of language than most philosophy majors. But I'm curious – if words diminish, why are you writing this blog?

Good question. You shall get nothing.

@concernedcitizen_: Wait, you said "hoping to sober up" – so there's a chance this salvia trip ends and you become human again? Or are you hoping to sober up from being conscious as an ankle monitor? Which would mean... what, going back to being a regular unconscious device?

Holy shit. Idfk.

@midnightscrolls: The way you flipped that question back on @dailyreader_istanbul was chef's kiss. "Everything in life is self-serving" – even an ankle monitor understands this. But real talk, when Kerem's house arrest ends and they take you off, what do you think happens to YOU?

Idk.

@kerem_is_that_you: This whole thing feels like a creative writing exercise by the guy wearing the monitor. Are you okay man?

Lol.

dear light

take away from darkness as your core expires when you're gone you're not gone illuminator of a room just to join darkness when you're gone you've gone to darkness all lights spawn just to give it back to darkness thankfully im good at dark just haven't figured to be good at light as it is something fleeting and in the past my definition of realness involved staying something would be less real if it was to perish and seeking refuge in something that's going to stay a whole lot longer would be the ideal thing for me to do it was for a while and im sure it's what people need to learn about just not me
liver of 3000 lives husband to 3000 wives i oscillate i go forward and i come back then i go forward again to come back
to go forward
do you think i could stay there?

welcome to today's session so, welcome to today's session.

let's pick up where we left off.

last week we talked about the loss of the specific sensation that something you haven't encountered yet is waiting for you.
the feeling that the world still had surprises in it.

yeah uhm... yeah we talked about that how do you feel today? i feel like, this is a lot of work.

i liken it to giving birth.

more like forcing out a big shit.

go on about what?
nothing feels new since the last dance i danced it's almost like seeing life through someone else's lens. i feel like, the sun has lost its vigour. lost its home.
i feel like everything is in disarray and no prophet to say this way. i mean there is me but i'm too busy feeling nothing. but what is there to feel? what is appropriate for me to pick up from the buffet of emotions? you know the cook scratches his ass during his shift and is a dirty motherfucker, right?

2026-02-27

hi paper

i'm afraid i lost my way doesn't necessarily mean i'm lost just out of the way i have been on perhaps there are cleaner ways to say this but i used to sit at the typewriter and bleed i no longer do that i don't poke at myself for fun anymore i don't chase what's already fleeting i don't stay with what's a goner i choose to spend my time more consciously to do things more consciously to do things better see paper even when i don't bleed i can speak i can tell you things it's been a while i know and i have missed you wanted to let you know what's what who's a twat and who's a good boy

2026-02-27

this morning i felt like

when was the last time you felt alive thrill of the ride apart from when you took that ride man it felt so right

2026-02-27

who's a twat and who's a good boy

i think i'm a good boy says every twat what's up with that anyways paper no longer doing funny things on paper unless it is funny what i mean in actuality is no longer funny things for the sake of funny art isn't for art's sake art is the way of the human being human, in the state of being is art

what's the opposite of strong it's weak sniveling pathetic little weakling don't be vulnerable im so tired of being the only vulnerable one im so tired of taking damages im so tired of hurt im hurt so badly so deeply im so scarred up im so im so me but i dont wanna be me i'd rather be anything but me how i wish humanity didn't spread as wide and far as it did humans are the downfall of humans we're not prey to anything but ourselves and we'd rather be anything so we wouldn't kill ourselves see the dilemma in the recurring words is there a dilemma under the recurring words is there anything

hi paper, lie paper

hi paper

lie paper

let me hear some words of untruth coming out of your mouth, bleed out of your vein, but isn't someone else's lie someone else's truth universe is endless possibilities are endless lies are another truth?

2026-03-01

god i'm so magnetic

im not gonna list adjectives for you to find your objective i just am, a beer who is who is more often than not devoid of manners runs straight to the heart of things sees where it lies untangle the lies sees the truth right through it more often than not picks a fight with self as it gets cocky and takes up too much space in my shelves self, you do not exist we are what we're around we are what's around us but i'll remain static too empathetic you wouldn't see it eclectic ecstatic and erratic

2026-03-05

i think i,

i think i let go,
first i held on for diego. through the a-holes, through the life of me, bet god did see.
what did he see wasn't the best of me instead of holding for dear life i let go for the life of me. life bloomed through me and once again, i, once again i remembered what i had forgotten, and forgot what i learned.
it was all,
giant wept,
cat curled up on his lap, it was the end of that.

earned my rest

passed my test done my chores then done a 100 good deeds spread the lemon seeds calculate the odds of a tree sprouting and calculate if it will bear any fruits before it dies can you calculate life well let's try 146 multiplied by 100 will be my good seeds with the lemon fruits let's say kids will make lemonade and sell them for 50 cents learn some responsibility money making can you put a price on life
anyways i digress
i don't feel like i earned my rest there is no rest

just saying shit soul spit blood is running through my veins like blood running through my veins like a great flood washing it all away all the misdeeds all misspoken all sick leaves all sicklies

like you're not meant to hold on you're meant to move you're meant to join join where?

sun, from sun's perspective hi, i'm conscious but all i say is ah. pleasure from constantly burning being stung by 10000 bees at the same time is pleasurable increase in the quantity of an experience changes the essence of that experience so, i can't think much i'm constantly being fucked to those that wish to follow me you need to be in ecuador or you'll miss me and moon will tell you what the fuck stop and we don't wanna if you're gonna follow me get close to me

this table

So, here I lay at your table. Once so warm, now so cold. I can't tell if it's me or the table, though I fear I won't be able to have a tell over many things now. But even back then knowledge didn't feel like knowledge, knowing felt like borrowing. Browsing the shelves of my best self, hear what my fortune tells. Living felt like dying. But now that I'm dead, it feels strangely alive. I do not like this table. It's cold. I did love sun. It used to depart so early, then votes was casted, I was to devote a life, I was to follow it where it lasted. Spend less time without it when it rested. Once so yellow I lay at this grey table with no fellows. I always believed, it deemed such dream that all my fellow men gets recruited and transform into undying flame. I've never belonged to any club, not that I wouldn't belong to one that would have me as a member, I've never wished to have a title. Never wished to get tighter. Never had an emblem, maybe sun would have liked that. Table still is, I'm beginning to find out I is getting am. Cold or warm I can't tell, many storms formed and formed my bed. In it I laid, tonight I left it unlaid, duvets' frayed ends made with intent. Sometimes I liked it. Wiggled them with my toes. I liked toes. Not every toes. I wasn't what Quentin Tarantino is. Though I would have licked Salma Hayek's toes, but can't stand Quentin Tarantino. He is a sick fiend. On second thought, I wouldn't lick Salma Hayek's toes, though I won't explain why. I'm dead and discussing Salma Hayek's feet, sweet. What am I gonna say when this table rusts and fades, leaves is place to birds and their babes. What when God finally decides to come and claim this weary body. Will he see I'm made of heart and mighty? How long until I don't feel this table? I guess I will feel this table until I don't feel this table. In life I was like that too. I quote Miss Macfarlane: "You are being deliberately obscure as a substitute for having a personality." But that was not the case, I just believed simple is complex enough to not be simplified, if that makes sense. You can't leave a feeling until it leaves you, and until it does, it must travel past your known past. Enigmatic, in life and in death. If you want to diminish something just say it. I've never seen god, so I placed him everywhere. And paid it the respect it ached for. You've heard me right, ached for. God needs the soul as much as the soul needs god. A chalice emptied to what was full, still had room to roam. Back from where, home? It doesn't correspond to where, home's everywhere. There I go with what the container contained. Heart in a rib cage, brain in a skull, I go without a will, was and before. To become a wind to a stillness, rain to a dry spot, thoughts that will forget a rot. Ask it where it's from engage in warfare, do everything for a life made of fair. And dust, call it fairy dust, hammer down a dead star, essence of I.

first dry, then wet my crown sucking up the water that falls on my head, to send it on its way circulate amongst the circulation that will evaporate what was sucked in leave but nothing but steam perhaps it's what i need truthfully regardless of anything i go through

through all i remain what i was i find myself blossoming

--continuation--

I was roaming around his chamber before others noticed the crack and I, I don't know how but I felt at ease. Until others came and took up the space. It was at this moment I stopped feeling. I had no recollection of my memory afterwards as I was paralyzed from feeling, due to not feeling. The next day he visited me in my dreams. He showed me, and I have seen the things that were never seen. I feel heavy but light. I feel possessed but free. I feel filthy but clean. I feel he is about to live through me. I feel his light is about to rescue me. To make sure, tomorrow's free.

every yes is a death of no answering questions require picking a side and who are you in life if you haven't picked one? but can you pick one for the one that will strip you away from one? one bridge, two assets to type out ass to ride out the rhyme involves the service of not one but two first inner world picks it and i make it true, barbara asked a lot of questions and i always wasn't true indecisiveness and indifference more like another clue but the world asks you be someone be done with the spun of yarn and turn it into a garment and life asks have fun while doing so but i don't have an answer to a question mmpi test has 567 questions

"Every yes is a small death of the no. Every no is a small death of the yes." the eye that cant stop watching itself watching every acceptance is refusal of something every arrival is absence from a place listen kids, there was a man named avery he was weary of the pirate rum he was consuming and one day he wandered lord why this soul avery isn't aware of what he can't see all there is is in front of him why what he can't see he can't see and what he can he can wrath of god was wrathful upon this soul avery as he very shamelessly screamed lord's name in vanity he wanted to transcend his humanity but kids that was insanity and he couldn't escape his tragedy it's not suicide, purely for the rhyme this life of mine, running out of time

today i'm writing an ugly poem consisting of ugly habits and ugly thoughts when my friends do not respond, i think they do not like me. hey, world doesn't revolve around you, to each the world revolves around each. uglier than the poem itself, this attempt at coping, i hate when my friends do not respond. i wish i had a girlfriend who i'd, who i'd devote everything, and none to my friends.

i hit my flex as usual what's the world record for staying underwater?

i don't care i'm a smoker and not an athlete oh, i guess i should have stated what i am about to state before i had stated what i had stated before i started stating this i can stay underwater for 3 and a half minutes my heart rate slows down i see a bright darkness there was this one time i went back to my mother's womb okay i will make a correction, i can't stay underwater for 3 and a half minutes, but i could 2 summers ago anyways i went back to my mother's womb and had a vision of me sucking my thumb stayed there for a couple of seconds, took all the information i couldn't receive due to c-section then went out and gosh, when i emerged it was anew, everything was anew

i was breathing like it's my first time being here it was my first time being here i was new.

i was new,

i was new.

my sentences could read better not my sentences itself but cluster of sentences CLUSTERFUCK DONT SAY CLUSTERFUCK and don't get at me for writing continuously it's either that or sunbathe i haven't even brushed my teeth yet let go of your hand stop holding, let go of what you're withholding. put on the blindfolding and stop controlling, this image may be revolting. put on your gold ring, old king, let's get to balling.

ars poetica 1

is it the purpose of the writing or the purpose of the reading why do i have to stick to my opening statement for it to be coherent fundamental questions of ars poetica but nonetheless stupid why do i feel different when the sun disappears i don't like the writer that i am pretty sentences are not enough core material needs to be tough not me i soften up as i breathe, an area of heath beneath my teeth i'm not accustomed to these lands i'm a stranger to myself i enjoy writing more than reading, i refuse the rhymes of reading.

why don't you laugh so i can believe in myself why don't you explain so nah don't explain

i don't want you stepping away from the feeling you feel to look for words that i could understand don't make me understand, understand?

table and tires spinning i'm seated at my table feeling like this table has been through a lot well not exactly as tables don't experience life well what if they do well why do you always digress from the chosen subject and go along with whatever comes up like you saw some tires spinning and now that's all you're thinking about until the tires stop and it's time to get deep but oh you can't cause you saw some more tires spinning well what the fuck are you talking about never mind i'm off you now being denied home, by my own lungs purple, color of my crown don't mind me if i frown see i,

more often than not
was extremely good at drowning yet i could never die life, so entrenched in my body like a tick clinging on for dear old life either it's that or death yet i, at my final breath still my mother's lamb find my home back to her womb, read the words i'll engrave on my tomb instruct my loved ones of the process after my passing, make it ever everlasting

"The poem isn't narrating a death, it's narrating the millionth aborted one." i look in my eyes

i, tell me love, when you look into my eyes, what do you see?

oh my, why? i see the brightest sky.

i can tell when you lie, what do you truly imply?

i, still high, getting by, trying to die do you concur it's due to the fact that death is the warmest embrace?

no. when i look into your face i see a maze, like you don't know how to make it out out of that place, like you're not showing enough grace.

i'm graceful at the face of dying, though we never met i'm still trying, whatever he's selling i'm buying.

do you think it looks like flying?

i'd be lying if i were denying.

underneath, are you crying?

eye did, drying. soon i'll be arriving.

you only bother to hate what you think should be better and some hate is thwarted want i love hating in my hate i truly love i say, all the things you could be,

and you choose to be that?
but in your time how will you know only when you're not stupid you'll see how stupid you were and even then, still then you are stupid compared to the next day so we all should hate you to show you how stupid you are gosh will it ever end?
I, HATE.

the live edge over the dead core my mind feels the pressure of having to be and i am not at the times i am not so i ask my mind to forgive me it says what i think it says but sometimes it turns into m-s, a mess amassed a great deal of fortune but there is a catch i'm not to enjoy it until i take my rest like god on a sunday.

it's easy comparing yourself to god even easier to say we're all gods we're not gods,
all the time.
sometimes we're petty often lack the pretty, our tune isn't always catchy sometimes we're killers we're always killers every being is a killer light is killer of dark object is killer of space space is killer of existence and i am the killer of me an ever-growing tree valerie's missing

Hey Mallory, I wonder if you've heard from Valerie. She was last seen near the factory enjoying a raspberry holding her salary. I know you told her to watch her calorie in the gallery. Is that why she was eating a raspberry? That's not a lot of calorie. You've been chasing her ever since February, after she left your side in the gallery, did she go straight to the factory? i'm slightly worried. factory is not chic, and she wouldn't be near it normally. i don't know what happened between you two to alter the case of history, even chemistry. she used to major in theology but last time we talked she wanted to switch it up for geography. What have you said to Valerie, Mallory?

my cold face misses the sun rays, then summer arrives, small plants get huge, ants work like, crazy, you're up as the sun is,
high as it is,
bright and fiery.
but you know winter is promised.
so the winter comes.
summer seems impossible, everything is cold and bleak, you forget to speak, forget to utter the words emerging from the fire, but then one day it gets hot. and it gets hotter from there sky with a yellow glare to get back cold again colder than before summer warms so winter doesn't kill everyone is invited inside.

today i met the most beautiful girl there ever was and will be gosh, is beautiful the word i would use? the way she gives off grace ready or not i'm going in but if i write this and lock it in won't she know? well i've talked to a lot of beautiful women today and all of them wore purple but only one was purple gosh now she'll know fuck it maybe she won't read this if she reads this that means she's into me cause why would you invest into something if you're not interested i met the most handsome girl today no need, i'll text her two lives, no identity in isolation my mind takes up the shapes it sees on the clouds printed on the clouds do you ever read my poems and think i'm schizo? what's the opposite of isolation?

conjunction? centralization? aggregation? unification? i'll go with conjunction hate poems that involve explanations from the mind just figure it out and write then writer doesn't have the time to go along with you make your point so we can see what you say but 21st century everybody saying something without showing you how that thought got brought up everybody, saying something and what they say is what they heard herd mentality
in isolation i'm free in conjunction i piss motherfucker off they say your pants' fly is unzipped IT'S BY DESIGN
IT'S TO PISS YOU OFF
MAKE YOU LOOK
IT'S A STATEMENT
art isn't something that can be post up on a wall of a chosen venue art isn't what art is fuckart read it in one breath that makes a cool name my name is fuckart in isolation i,

pet horses among people i miss horses and the sun and the sea GOD I MISS TANNING
I WANNA HAVE PEOPLE WHERE I TAN
I DON'T WANNA GO INTO ISOLATION WHEN I RESIGN TO MYSELF I WANT EVERYBODY THERE WITH ME AND I'M NOT TALKING ANYMORE

OCCUPIED IN ISOLATION

i don't wanna be alone when i resign to myself i want everybody inside of me outside of me i'm aware that last sentence reads a little sus and it's better for the poem not to acknowledge it you have to trust a reader to get it but is that really the case in 2026? the way people take on something is flawed, people's dining habits has worsened. fine-dining?
more like ding dong eat my dung so thaT's why writers gotta show how they got to that thought to follow or lead?

my writing reflected the many state my soul mind and body been in.
many fractures fractured my sentences, punctuated tire, fluctuating love. many times i've sat at the deck and rode out a thought and it fluctuated long before i could follow it the way it deserves to actualization. many times i treated as if it was actualized, ESPECIALLY, when it wasn't.
i take a drag from my cigarette get lost in a word choice i made, and decorate around it. all the little impulses, the sounds that are followed we demonstrated in earlier poems that you are a follower. follower of the sounds, thoughts and things that arise. and then i choose i choose not to be dictated by things and lead cause my poems also said lead never follow don't choose which is witch, choose what to feel.

ramblings of a god and loneliness of a human then i feel i get the ramblings of a mad playful god then i get human feelings

LIKE LIKE BRO I WANNA BE AROUND YOU DAWGGGGGGGG

WHAT YOU SELLIN IM BUYINN

VIBES? TIDES? SLIDES? RIDES? WE A MEMBER, OF TRIBES. MY DAWG, WHAT THEY PRESCRIBES? IT LINGERS, ON THE INSIDES? SOMETIMES, I GET LONELY. EYES?
LINES? LIES? WHAT ARISE? NEW DESIGNS? WHAT IT ALL REALLY IMPLIES?

then we hold hands in our search for answers and this is where this poem ends

"The search is the hand-holding. You don't get the answer; you get the company in the

on communication

communication is a very weird thing when feelings are all ever-changing, and everything ever moving. when you speak you stop being a witness, you're being witnessed.
and we tend to dress our parts when that's about to happen.

-bipolar

6 days to sunday

dear paper i've been far from you and close to myself but today i fail to recognize myself i hurt and i got hurt comfort is a hell of a thing comfort the disturbed and disturb the comfortable in my comfort zone i am disturbed and when i'm disturbed comfort doesn't arrive well it does, 6 days to sunday, summer versus winter, it's many months until may.
and the snow, how does snow feel? stranger to my body, strange ways lead to my body,
and i,
today,
the needle grinds at the vinyl, hole grows wider,
senses go lighter,
there you go,
bye there

i feel so much, can't think of a title so many mentors.

am i supposed to be listening to anybody?
i wrote that i never seeked. all i needed found me.
as i wasn't iful.
i was eyeful.

it was always revolt, today i found out perceptions work at a fault. a machine ain't always perfect, upkeep to keep it intact, yet they lied.
they lie.
they doesn't know.
they do not know.
they lie bro.
THEY FUCKING LIE BRO.
but someone's lie is someone else's truth, and i tasted the forbidden fruit. nothing's the same.
nothing's never was the same.
nothing's never the same.
i forgot my name.
forgot to pick my face off the rack, and that's the unchanging tale. i push it up, it rolls back down

I THOUGHT THIS DROUGHT WOULD BEAR FRUIT, WHATEVER THEY SAY GOD'S NOT CUTE is it love that hurts or the absence of it?

all the attempts at locating it to find something essentially different contempt?

contemporary.

god made it all so you get weary if you ask me piece of shit should have asked me i would have made it fair and fairy fairer than a maiden green eye, story of life going gentle into that good night don't ask me why i should stop here, the feeling is out, this drought has a fullness of its own, i kid you not.

a poem talking about talking about myself talks about myself sure, let's talk about how i feel since i'm the one that's writing it should be about me but posting what i write makes it hard for me to say what i feel, without dressing it up in something pretty i want the world to look at what i made, not at what i'm made of me, who gives a shit about me? why should anyone?

some jerk jerked around, he needed to be found.
tell me sis, we were like twins when did we fall out?
stuff with our mother,
you held it down,
i flown.
landed.
fated?
faded.

pills are cool, anti-depressants AIN'T okay i've been on them pills for a minute. which is worse drugs or anti-depressants? drugs numb or activate the parts you want gone or there, anti-depressants just numb. pain, echoes through the black hole, with them it's just hollow. gone, nothing to remember them by, my pain defines me, is that a lie?

mandatory pills are gone, pills are now taken by desire, flying? high and high, but we told you, all that's up comes down, doesn't matter if you frown, napoleon without a crown? napoleon complex, what did socrates say? hitler complex, one ball index, that's where this poem ends.

without anti-depressants i can let it out again. not knowing what it is or what i gain, beach volleyball or bitch volleyball? here comes the serve, serving the servicer where he works. here comes the swerve, i'm out this bitch, rich or poor you wind up in a ditch.
WHAT A TIME TO BE ALIVE, I FEEL I POWERING UP, EYE SAID EYE, WRITTEN ON THY THIGHS, I WANT THY, DON'T ASK ME WHY.

pope with a home, outside of church some things get old.

complaining about the same old things, don't you ever change?

when dumbfounded take a step back, retrace your aim for another shot, i am dumbfounded, instincts, impulses, not all need following, some things get old so does this rhyme engine kicking in mid-flight it's not purely to impress a reader, fuck-a-reader to lead you need a crystal clear vision statement summed they look at you like give me some but my statements don't make a poem, or a prose or a complete work, they abruptly finish i'm left asking for more, i envy writers, me, i'm not one, used by god, it gets hard, performance i'm accustomed to, showing a glimmer of him, make non-believers believe, i'm good at it, but at the end of the day i'm what i retreat to, this equation i need to be a part of,
put god at the doorstep, i'm home but i'm homesick.

mistakes mistakes mistakes, all i ever do is mistakes. fuck i just feel like,

there is a problem

bridges burn but metal isn't paper it doesn't turn into ash and scatter away metal beams, the concrete none of it dissolve clearing the debris asks us to clean the debris and we're at a different point in our lives and i feel like you no longer wanna be my friend me, i have the time to clean it up, flowers shooting through wildlife returning,

you
you don't give a shit i don't remember how it burnt small lighter burnt a bridge none of us thought it'd get this big but it had, it's done this heart, you reside, burnmark.

FUCK YOU, NO TITLE

saying ugly things, to an ugly thing aye man,

everyone that knows me knows i'm kind as fuck.
one might even call it overcompensation of the things i'm not gonna reveal, one wouldn't be wrong.
but there is a tiny group of people, to whom i've been a mad asshole to,
and i am what i am,
because i am what i am.
i sometimes feel sorry for being an asshole, then i feel it was just.
i sometimes feel sorry for being too kind, then i say fuck it, be the love that's hard to find,
be the one to say fuck you, trust me it's true. you ain't getting nothing from me, when you're ready i'll give it to you.
AITA? am i the asshole? this role god bestowed

42 weeks

today i can envision purple. at first colors were,
at first there wasn't a thing as such,
what i did can't be put in words.
is there a point in, articulating what can't be summed up? speech dishonors some parts.

i've been transcending my humanity for 3 and a half years, red, devil's advocate, orange, foliage,
yellow, yell oh,
green, lean in,
blue, there is a chance you blew, indigo, long ago, your ancestors foregone, purple, portal,
immortal.

i broke, eye saw, i broke, aye aye you break two times.

first when you break, second when you realize you're broken. pieces of scattered pieces are not pieces, a broken rock, shell and mineral, actively breaking for millions of years. you don't call them by their name, before they broke, you call them sand.

engrossed in it, the mist, amidst clear headed, still, some fog remaining embarked in a journey, 42nd, to be in fact will this be the last?

accumulated, what's passed is past the residue it left in me, i restfully collect fog remains still, parts of me out there, it's hard to see but eye got it's so i don't worry, but i'll toss it in the river when this fog is lifted my face, pretty as fuck, yours, i prefer one without one when the sun sets i wish for a ship, travel the speed of light where it's still up. how fast do i need to travel for it to be always up? it's not that i'm scared of darkness, i fear what it brings.

we're not on a first-name basis. and i feel at home, that's what i fear, two nameless, two faceless, interaction is weightless, yet it means so much.
divide and multiply it's always zero, no such thing as blocked sight, there's sight of the obstruction, if you don't like what you see, maybe you're the problem. you've a name but what does it entail? a face, is it where the soul is placed? you ask and ask and ask, and when it's not what you want you hide your face.
hide it, never ever out it, maybe then you can find what you never seeked.

i want nothing,
i need some things.

someone thinks you're made of metal, doesn't think of tasting you i see life in a way in a way that, what is the purpose of writing? if not the attempt at captivating what's fleeting?

isn't it a disservice? isn't it outright evil, fucked up? to want to lock something away, what is the purpose of, captivating what's on its toes, swift on the air? now i don't feel like writing. though my writing is never a zoo, there never is a barrier excluding you, you're in it, but lucky for you, lion perceives the car and the human as one.
me, on the other hand i don't conceive the lion, i see the same old thing.
